

NOLITA

NOLITA

Perched at the intersection of four distinct cultural epicenters—SoHo, NoHo, the Lower East Side, and Little Italy—NoLita stands out as a uniquely charismatic, artistically charged, and enigmatic destination all its own.

2

This guide is but a brief introduction to some of the best spots in the area. It's a glimpse into the tightly interwoven yet internationally eclectic tapestry that is NoLita—and we encourage you to lace up and discover it for yourself.

FACES OF NOLITA

ALEX WILCOX
BESPOKE BRIT / MEN'S TAILOR /
OWNER OF LORD WILLY'S SINCE 2005

20

Q What's the story behind Lord Willy's?

A Mrs. Wilcox and I offer New Yorkers classic English tailoring with a playful twist, right on Mott Street.

Q Why did you choose NoLita for your shop?

A It sits nicely between the designer boutiques of SoHo and the edgy East Village. The location really suits us, pun intended.

Q What do you love most about NoLita?

A NoLita's very much a neighborhood—even New Yorkers like to visit. Many of our clients daytrip from uptown. They soak up the diversity and grab a bite while they're here.

& KICKS

Lord Willy's, 225 Mott St.

21

Q Does Lord Willy's have a mascot?

A We have two Jack Russells in the store, Baxter and Bailey. They help us with accounting.

“NOLITA SITS NICELY BETWEEN THE DESIGNER BOUTIQUES OF SOHO AND THE EDGY EAST VILLAGE.”

EMILIO VITOLO SR.
NOLITA ICON / CHEF / OWNER OF
EMILIO'S BALLATO SINCE 1991

36

Q What's on the menu at Emilio's Ballato?

A Simple, southern Italian made like grandma used to cook for Sunday dinner. I use quality, seasonal ingredients, and cook with all my heart.

Q What's unique about the Ballato experience?

A People feel like they're being welcomed into my home. I want them to put down their phones and have long conversations and stay awhile. Like how families used to eat.

Q How did you meet Lenny Kravitz?

A Lots of celebrities eat here, but when Lenny came in we just clicked. Next thing I knew, Lenny was calling me up when he was sick and I was hand-delivering food to his door. My kids grew up with his kids.

EATS

Emilio's Ballato, 55 E. Houston St.

37

Q What's Lenny's favorite dish at Emilio's Ballato?

A Lenny has amazing taste in clothes, friends—and food. He loves my rigatoni with zucchini.
