Lenny Kravitz designs interiors? And it's put on sale for the public! Surprisingly, it is a little-known fact that musician Lenny Kravitz is also an incredible designer. It is not rare to see a rapper or a musician present themselves as a designer or an architect, but his case is slightly different.

In 2015, his furniture line was launched in collaboration with CB2. With Kravitz Design, he created interiors and goods inspired by the '70s. This time in the Nolita neighborhood he designed 75 Kenmare.

Let's take a look at some of his noteworthy works. For example, the luxury suites at hotels in Miami and Las Vegas, sunglasses and watches for Brazilian fashion brands and the limited-edition "Correspondent" camera for the renowned Leica. He even designed ceramic tiles for Lea Ceramiche.

The building's exterior designer is the renowned New York architect Andre Kikoski of Andre Kikoski Architect (AKA), winner of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) Honor Award.

His greatest works are the restaurants and cafés in the Guggenheim Museum, and a Tiffany store in Verona, Italy. There are a total of 38 units in 75 Kenmare, with 1 to 4 bedrooms. Amenities include a 24-hour concierge, private landscaped courtyard and a fitness center. 75 Kenmare is located in Nolita, where Kravitz Design is based. Inspired by the distinctive downtown vibe of free spirit, a glamorous rock-star version of housing is created.

One of my BEST designs!

Lenny Kravitz's Style

Kravitz was born and raised in Manhattan. His mother is an actress and his father is a TV producer. This kind of upbringing enabled him to be surrounded by the top-notch products, intellectuals and stars. The most important point in designing 75 Kenmare is to keep it "soulfully elegant", he says, which means elegant, sophisticated and at the same time very inviting, comfortable and warm.

"My vision for 75 Kenmare centers on a layered environment, drawing inspiration from the eccentric Downtown vibe while integrated elegant materials, such as unique natural stones, bonded metal and aged oak, Nolita has a style, rhythm and culture of all its own, and we've created an environment that feels contemporary and refined, but also warm and inviting."

These are condos in the most popular areas in U.S. which are almost sold out. If there's one last chance, how about buying one here!?
